END OF THE QUAY CASE

An Unexpected Termination of the Famous Trial.

NO WITNESS FOR DEFENSE.

Counsel For Ex-Senator Decides to Offer No Testimony.

ARGUMENTS ON BOTH SIDES.

The Court Overrules the Motion of the Defense to Order a Verdict of Not Guilty — Summary of the Arguments Submitted to the Jurors.

Philadelphia, April 20.—The Quay case went to the jury, at 3:05 p. m. Judge Riddle announced that he will remain in call until 6 p. m. If the jury have not agreed on a verdict by that hour they will be locked up for the night.

Philadelphia, April 20.—The defense opened its part of the proceedings in the trial of Senator Quay, on the charge of conspiracy, by moving that the court withdraw the case from the jury and render a verdict of "not guilty."

In support of this motion David T. Watson made a long argument. He began with the statement that early in the trial the prosecution presented an offer to produce evidence connecting M. S. Quay with a conspiracy alleged to have been entered into with Cashier Hopkins of the People's bank and State Treasurer B. J. Haywood for the misuse of state funds deposited in the People's bank.

Mr. Watson argued that the district attorney had utterly failed to prove its case, and moved that the court strike from the record the statements produced from the books of the bank, because they failed to connect M. S. Quay with conspiracy. He also moved to strike out the "red book" on the same grounds. The same motion was made with reference to the letter of July 31, 1890, from Treasurer Haywood to President McManes of the bank, agreeing to a loan to R. R. Quay, and the minutes of the bank directors with regard thereto, the ground being that this evidence relates to a transaction with which M. S. Quay is not connected.

Another point raised was that Goldsmith, the commonwealth's chief witness, is not an expert, that instead of testifying to what the books disclosed he evolved a theory from inferences, and partly from outside information.

The crime charged, said Mr. Watson, is conspiracy, and, curious to say, there is only one person indicted. The commonwealth utterly failed, he contend, to connect the defendant with the charges of conspiracy.

In the course of his argument, Mr. Watson made the point that the prosecution admitted that not one cent of interest on state funds had ever been paid to Mr. Quay.

He argued that while some of the testimony offered may be evidence against Hopkins and Haywood, it is certainly not evidence against Quay. The commonwealth has failed to show that Mr. Quay had anything to do with inducing Treasurer Haywood to deposit state funds in the People's bank.

Coming to the loan of $100,000 to R. R. Quay, Mr. Watson pointed out that this was a loan to another man, and the commonwealth has not proved that Senator Quay even endorsed the note.

The attorney quoted the laws relating to the duties of the state treasurer, and said there was nothing to prevent him from depositing the money in his custody wherever he pleases. The law prohibits him from gaining profit by such deposit, but it does not prohibit the depository from gaining profit; it is expected that a bank accepts deposits for that purpose.

District Attorney Rothermel, in reply to Mr. Watson's argument, referred to his offer of proof, and declared the commonwealth has proved the conspiracy completely within the line to which the court limited it, namely, the two years ante-dating Nov. 17, 1898.

Judge Biddle said there was presented to him, first, a demur to the indictment; second, a demur to the evidence. As to the first he would say nothing, as he was not in position to discredit the testimony made by the commonwealth, and he would therefore allow the case to go to the jury for them to decide.

There was a buzz of conversation in the court room over this decision adverse to the defense, and then the Quay lawyers got together for a consultation.

At the conclusion Attorney Shields made the announcement that the defense would offer no testimony whatever, and would at once proceed to the addresses to the jury. In order to save time Mr. Shields offered to waive the right to make the opening speech.

All this was agreeable, and Mr. Rothermel at once started in a calm, quiet manner, in an attempt to convince the jury that he had established the guilt of Senator Quay.

The district attorney, in opening, reviewed the charges against Mr. Quay, and read the law on the subject. The crime, he said, was that of conspiracy, and, being born in secrecy, was therefore difficult to prove. It must invariably be proved by the acts of the conspirators, as it is almost impossible to get the statement of one of the conspirators. Coming to the relation of Mr. Quay, politically, to State Treasurer Haywood he indicated that if the state treasurer received interest from the cashier, and Mr. Quay the interest on $200,000 from the cashier, the natural inference is that these men have entered into a conspiracy.

There might be no direct evidence, he continued, but there should be no doubt that conspiracy was conceived and carried out.

Mr. Rothermel read Mr. Quay's letter to Cashier Hopkins directing the purchase of 900 shares of Metropolitan stock. This, he argued, was unlawful, because the purchase was made with bank money, and no interest was charged.

He showed by the evidence that the state deposit during the six months ending Oct. 31, 1897, ranged from $525,000 to over $600,000, and that other loans were made to Mr. Quay without interest. The check of Hopkins to Treasurer Haywood for $1,519 was dismissed.

Mr. Rothermel said the bank's books showed this amount was the interest on state funds, less 20 per cent for the bank and less interest on $200,000 for the use of Mr. Quay.

The "red book" he designated as unintelligible in itself, but connected with the other books of the bank, he asserted that it was the key to the proof of the charges.

The district attorney, in concluding, referred to the resolution of the board of directors Aug. 3, 1896, authorizing a loan of $100,000, alleged to be endorsed by Mr. Quay, provided a certain letter could be obtained. He then read the Haywood letter to president McManes of the bank, indicating that $100,000 of state money would be deposited in the bank if R. R. Quay was loaned a similar amount, and that it would not be removed until the loan was paid.

After a short recess Attorney Shields began his argument to the jury. At the outset he took up the fact that the case of the prosecution was built on the testimony of experts, and quoted an opinion of the supreme court that "the tendency is to call experts to testify to ready-made opinions."

This he declared was a prophecy covering the case in a remarkable way. Mr. Shields dwelt on ex-Judge Gordon's connection with the prosecution, and denounced his actions in unmeasured terms. He argued that the political conspiracy against Quay was begun when Judge Gordon got from the receiver of the broken bank the books and letters found in the dead cashier's private desk, and kept them in his possession for months. He went over the improper use made of these documents in furtherance of his political ambition and his hatred of Senator Quay.

Mr. Shields denounced the photographing of letters and the exhibition of those photographs to Democratic National Committeeman, Guffey and John Wanamaker as proof positive of the conspiracy for the undoing of Senator Quay.

Mr. Shields took up the "plum tree" telegram, and directed his most withering sarcasm against the smallness of the minds of the men who would use this document against a public man, in view of the fact that Senator Quay had more than $60,000 of his own money on deposit, and that $10,000 of this was used as margin in the transaction.

No Successor to Quay.

Harrisburg, April 20.—The session of the general assembly of 1899 adjourned finally at noon after having been in session a little over three and a half month. It closed without the election of a successor to M. S. Quay, and unless Governor Stone calls an extra session, at which there should be an election, Pennsylvania will have only one representative in the United States senate the next two years.

Victoria, B. C., April 20.—The steamer Aorangi, from Australia, brings news of the arrest of the commander of the German warship Faile at Apia, for supplying arms to Mataafa. The arrest was made by the British commander.

HIGHBINDERS AT WAR.

Bloody Encounter of Chinese Factions in City of Fresno.

THREE ARE IN THE MORGUE.

The Trouble Is Said to Have Had Its Origin In Conviction of Tai Choy the For Crime of Murder Some Time Ago.

Fresno, O., April 20.—A bloody highbinder war that has been expected for some days broke out in Chinatown, and as a result three Mongolians occupy slabs in the morgue, two more are at the County hospital, mortally wounded, and nine are behind the bars in the county jail.

Upon hearing the first shot, Policeman Rapeiji, who was a block away, ran to the alley north of Tulare street, between F and G, where he saw two Chinese pumping lead into the body of a third Chinese, who lay at their feet. Further up the alley were at least a dozen Chinamen running about and blazing away at each other.

As Rapeiji ran up the alley a Chinaman ran past him pursued by a highbinder. The fugitive made for a doorway, but was dropped on the steps by a bullet from the highbinder's gun, which struck him in the head, killing him instantly. Rapeiji captured the murderer, who gave his name as Wong Duck.

Policeman Morss, who was running to the scene of the shooting, saw a highbinder run up to a Chinaman named Chin Chi, who was standing in a doorway, and deliberately fire two shots at him killing him instantly. The murderer then started to run, whereupon Morss ordered him to stop, but instead the highbinder threw his gun at Morss' head. As he continued to run Morss fired, the ball penetrating the Chinaman's back, and he is now at the hospital not expected to live.

After quiet had been restored, a raid on the suspected haunts of the highbinders was made, and in one place were found three coats of mail and a small arsenal of revolvers, hatchets and knives. Nine men were arrested on suspicion. Three were charged with vagrancy and three with murder. One of them had a pair of brass knuckles on him at the time of his arrest.

Three of the victims have been identified. One is Ah Tai, a vegetable peddler. He was probably shot by accident. One of the dead is Chan Chee, a well known highbinder, and another is Lee On Tong, a peddler.

The fight is a factional one between the Bing Kung Tongs and the Suey On Tongs, rival companies. The trouble which led to the murders commenced with the conviction of Tai Choy, who was removed to San Quentin, to serve a sentence for murder in the second degree.

The local Tongs were sharply divided on the issue. The matter was rendered more acute when Gee Wing, who had evidently sold some property in China for $5,000, fled from the state to escape his creditors. A number of laborers and others to whom he owed sum ranging from $50 to $150 instituted criminal proceedings. Meanwhile the highbinders had taken the matter up, and it is believed that one of their objects was to blackmail Gee Wing or to bring about a forcible settlement of the laborers' claims.

Among those present in the abbey were 600 invited guests, all wearing wedding favors of marguerites and primroses, representing the bride's name. The Earl of Rosebery gave his daughter away, and the best man was the Earl of Chesterfield.

The guests included the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge, Duke of Cambridge, Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, all the members of the Rothschild family now in London, the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch, the Marquis of Dufferin, John Morley, Duke and Duchess of Somerset, lord chief justice of England, Baron Russell of Killowen, Duchess of Cleveland and the leaders of society generally.

A prevalent sickness among the Indian people has been ascribed to these supposed witches, and he took their lives.

Dr. Eyman of the state asylum for the insane at Cleveland testified as an expert. He said a person addicted to the habit loses honor and truthfulness and retains little principle.

The defense demanded the attendance of Mrs. M. C. Barber, Saxon's sister, in court in the afternoon, with papers and correspondence.

James Huddell, night clerk at the Hotel Federal, Allegheny, testified that Saxon and Mrs. George registered as G. D. Smith and wife of Toledo on March 24, 1896.

IMPORTANCE OF VACCINATION.

The Commissioner of Health for the city of Chicago has issued an appeal setting forth the wide prevalence of smallpox throughout the country and the necessary respect to the only declared means of protection, namely, vaccination.

"It hardly seems possible," says a medical journal, "that any one could object to this simple yet most successful method of preventing the horrible disease. In 1871 Germany lost 143,000 lives annually by smallpox. In 1874 vaccination was made obligatory. And with what result? Only one hundred and sixteen victims are annually sacrificed now to the disease in that country."

The legislatures in every State should pass laws fixing a heavy penalty for any one to handle goods manufactured by trusts. That would wipe out the combines in short order.

GOVERNOR BRADLEY appeared in the Republican convention at Louisville this week and worked in a strong plea for harmony, but spoiled it all by referring to his old enemy Dr. Godfrey Hunter as a man "not worthy of respect and honor."

The recent activity of Governor Bradley and his friends in Republican circles evidently means a fight to the finish with the Hunterites and administration forces. It begins to look like there are very lively times just ahead in the ranks of the Kentucky g. o. p.

The tobacco trust, it seems, was willing to pay a fabulous sum in order to secure complete control of the business. Of course, it expects to make the people foot the bill eventually. The grower will get less for his crop, and the consumer will have to pay more for his plug and twist and fine cut. That's the way the trusts work.

THE city of Maysville has not sold its stock in the Maysville and Lexington turnpike company. The $3,000 received this week came out of the money paid the company for that portion of the road in Fleming, Nicholas, Bourbon and Fayette counties. We understand the city authorities expect to receive fully as much more when the affairs of the company are finally settled up.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal sees some encouragement for the tobacco grower in the establishment of numerous small tobacco factories in opposition to the trust:

It is reported that within the past five months more small tobacco factories have been organized than were ever before known to be formed in a similar period of time. Not one of these concerns is large, we believe, the biggest capitalization being only $30,000 and the majority being rather under than above $5,000. A number of these small establishments have been started up in Louisville and other tobacco centers. Several have been organized in Cincinnati and other Ohio cities; one with $24,000 capitalization in Detroit, and we presume there are more whose insignificance is such as to have escaped attention. At any rate, there seems to be a general movement to venture into a field of manufacture that has apparently been pre-empted by one gigantic combination.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

Their Ninth Annual Reunion to be Held at Charleston, S. C., on May 10th-11th, 12th Inclusive.

The Ninth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will be held at Charleston, S. C., May 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th.

Business of great importance will demand consideration during the re-union, such as the best methods of securing impartial history, and to enlist each State in the compilation and preservation of the history of her citizen soldiers; the benevolent care through State aid or otherwise of disabled, destitute, or aged veterans and the widows and orphans of fallen brothers-in-arms; the care of the graves of the known and unknown dead buried at Gettysburg, Fort Warren, Camps Morton, Chase, Douglas, Oakland Cemetery at Chicago, Johnson's Island, Cairo and at all other points; to see that they are annually decorated, the headstones preserved and protected, and complete lists of names of dead heroes with the location of their last resting places furnished to their friends and relatives through the medium of camps; the consideration of the different movements, plans and means to complete the monument to the memory of Jefferson Davis, and to aid in building monuments to other great leaders, soldiers and sailors of the South; and to perfect a plan for a mutual aid and benevolent association; to make such changes in the constitution and by-laws as experience may suggest, and other matters of general interest.

General Joseph Wheeler has consented to deliver the oration at the opening exercises on May 10th.

Total number of camps now admitted 1,200, with applications in for nearly 150 more.

SHOWERS OF GOLDEN RAIN.

The Passage of Flying Fragments Through the Air—An Interesting Study.

[Popular Science Monthly.]

The regions of space beyond our planet are filled with flying fragments. Some meet the earth in its onward rush; others, having attained inconceivable velocity, overtake and crash into the whirling sphere with loud detonation and ominous glare, finding destruction in its molecular amor, or perhaps ricochetting from it again into the unknown. Some come singly, vagrant fragments from the infinity of space; others fall in showers like golden rain, all constituting a bombardment appalling in its magnitude. It has been estimated that every 24 hours the earth or its atmosphere is struck by 400,000,000 of missiles of iron or stone ranging from an ounce up to tons in weight.

Every month there rush upon the flying globe at least 12,000,000,000 iron and stone fragments, which, with lurid accompaniment, crash into the circumambient atmosphere. Owing to the resistance offered by the air, few of these solid shots strike the earth. They move out of space with a possible velocity of 30 or 40 miles a second, and, like moths, plunge into the revolving globe, lured to their destruction by its fatal attraction. The moment they enter our atmosphere they ignite; the air is piled up and compressed ahead of them with inconceivable force, the resultant friction producing an immediate rise in temperature, and the shooting star, the meteor of popular parlance, is the result.

MR. WATTERSON'S LECTURE.

The Noted Writer and Orator Will Speak at the Opera House To-Night on "Lincoln."

The people of Maysville—or at least most of them, will this evening enjoy their first opportunity of hearing Col. Henry Watterson, the distinguished editor and eloquent lecturer. Col. Watterson's name is almost a household word in Kentucky yet this is probably his first visit to Maysville, and he should be greeted by a very large audience. He will speak on "Abraham Lincoln." Of the lecture and the lecturer, the Commercial Tribune of Cincinnati says: "Mr. Watterson is always eloquent. He is even eloquent in his style of telling stories—and those who heard him at the Pike when he recited some droll sayings of Lincoln appreciated the lecturer's powers of initiation in this direction. All through it are characteristics of Mr. Watterson. His individuality is strongly stamped upon the style of the masterly eulogy on Lincoln. * * Every seat in the opera house was occupied, and the Union netted a snug little sum from the entertainment. Mr. Watterson, in his pen picture of 'Abe Lincoln—From the Log Cabin to the Presidency'—is in his glory, and those who heard him never listened to more eloquent words of eulogy for his fellow-being."

Tickets can be secured at Nelson's for to-night's lecture.

RIVER NEWS.

The City of Pittsburgh Broke a Piston Head. Will Pass Up Saturday Morning.

Mention was made yesterday of the accident to the new City of Pittsburgh. She broke a piston head while near New Richmond, necessitating her return to Cincinnati for repairs. A telegram from her owners to Captain Phister states that she expects to leave Cincinnati at midnight-to-night, and will pass Maysville Saturday morning. She has a fine trip of both freight and passengers.

The Virginia down this evening and Bonanza to-night. Mary Stewart, with French's show boat, passed up.

Enquirer: "The E. R. Andrews on the last round trip from Cincinnati to Point Pleasant towed 64 barges, 32 each way. Each tow covered 2½ acres, or a total of 5 acres. The engines of the Andrews are from the Frisbie shops, of this city, and their dimensions are 20 inches diameter, with 8 feet stroke. The above tow averaged 1,120-bushel barges of coal to each inch diameter of cylinder. The total bushels was 360,000."

The City of Cincinnati made a little record for herself on her up trip Wednesday night. Between Louisville and Madison she made no stops, and made the distance of 50 miles in 3 hours and 24 minutes. Her sister boat, the Louisville, has an unbroken record of 3 hours and 16 minutes for the same distance.

STATE TREASURER LONG and State Inspector Lester completed their examination of the books of the Mayaville and Lexington Turnpike Company Thursday and left for Frankfort in the afternoon. They will report the result of their investigation to the Sinking Fund Commissioners in a few days.

A Family Reunion. Thursday was the seventy-fourth anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Jane Morris, and her children and grandchildren surprised her by assembling at her home, at Mr. I. M. Lane's, and spending the day with her. There were present: Mr. Lane, Miss Nannie Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Muse and children, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rudy, of this city, Mrs. Lillie Griffith and children, of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Morris and Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, of Covington. It was a happy reunion of this estimable family.

Mason County's Assessment.

The State Board of Equalization acted on Mason County's assessment Thursday. The board had previously decided to increase the assessment of lands 12 per cent., but after hearing the protest presented by Assessor C. Burgess Taylor and Deputy County Clerk Wood the increase was placed at 10 per cent.

THE FEAST OF BARGAINS

in Clothing, Men's and Boys' Shoes and Men's Furnishings, set before the people, through Hechinger's retiring-from-business sale, has awakened an interest with the buying community that the conventional Clothing sales advertisement make impossible. It's a positive fact that customers from distances as far as fifty miles from Maysville are taking advantage of this sale. It is known that the stock consists of only first-class merchandise, and when considered that the reduction of prices enables the public to buy the high class goods Hechinger & Co. carry for less than ordinary goods sell elsewhere, it is no wonder that the storerooms are daily crowded. Thousands of dollars' worth of goods that were contracted for before Mr. Hechinger's conclusion to retire from business, are daily arriving. They share the same fate of those already in stock. They will be marked at prices that will make them sell.

On Wednesday our "HOP-KINS"

will be on sale. To those who have worn them they need no recommendation; those who have never worn them should try one. They are the best Straw Hats in the world; ask other Hatters in town.

Death of Miss Minnie Atherton. A telegram was received last evening by Mrs. Jane Burrows, of Forest avenue, announcing the death of her niece, Miss Minnie Atherton, at Cincinnati. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. George Atherton formerly of this city. No particulars have been received. Her relatives here did not know she was ill, and the sad news was a great shock to them.

"THE FOUR HUNDRED."

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Are Now Enjoying This New Game—Dr. Ellis to Speak Sunday.

The boys around the association are enjoying a new game. The inventor of the game, "The Four Hundred," (400) has contributed it to the Maysville Association. Our thanks are due Dr. A. Oscar Browne, of Louisville, for this addition, our local friend, Mr. A. D. Flora, having presented the claims of the Maysville association. The association ever stands ready to gracefully and graciously receive all such gifts from the hands of both people at home and abroad. Our library reading room and game room, though fairly well equipped, cannot have too many attractions, and indeed is ever more interesting and attractive to the boys and young men with every new feature. The association is a worthy institution and deserves the thought of every spirited citizen.

The men's rally Sunday will be in charge of Mr. C. P. Traxel. A special meeting is being planned for Dr. A. N. Ellis will address the meeting, taking for his subject, "Help Yourself and God will Help You." Plan to attend.

MILLIONS MADE

By Owners and Others Interested in the Sale of the Liggett & Meyers Plant to the Trust.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 17.—The long-discussed absorption of the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Company by the Continental Company was finally accomplished this morning, when Moses C. Wetmore, the President, and George S. Meyers, the largest individual stockholder, attached their signatures to the final papers, which were in the possession of the Union Trust Company. Immediately afterward they visited the plant of the corporation at Tower Grove and Folsom avenues and there straightened out the last details preparatory to the final transfer, the entire afternoon being devoted to this work.

According to an inside broker, the deal was made last Wednesday, when Mr. Baruch, of a New York brokerage firm, secured an option on the plant for $200,000. The option was taken up, and the entire property bought for $11,000,000 by George J. Butler, of the Union Tobacco Company. This firm, in turn, disposed of the plants to Mr. Duke, President of the American Tobacco Company, for $15,000,000, and finally the Continental Tobacco Company, the reputed purchasers, secured it from the American Company for $17,500,000, an appreciation of $6,500,000 in five days.

Judge Cooper Scores His Grand Jury.

MT. STERLING, Ky., April 19.—Quite a sensation occurred here to-day when the grand jury, now in session, failed to indict the insurance companies doing business here, for conspiracy. Circuit Judge John E. Cooper had the jury brought before him and told them if they did not go to their rooms and indict these companies he would dismiss them and impanel another jury. After quite an exciting time in the court room the jury returned to their room and brought in thirty-three indictments.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world, 25 cents a box. Sold by J. James Wood & Son, druggists.

GERMANTOWN.

John Harris and Lloyd Chin have gone to Galena, Kan., to try their luck.

J. A. Walton has returned from Hot Springs delighted with his trip and improved in health.

Judge T. M. Dora had a serious fall in front of his store last Friday, bruising his face and injuring his knee badly.

John Jones, proprietor of our bus line to Maysville, has gone to house-keeping in the property of James Bishop.

Rev. W. D. Welborn and wife returned last week from their visit to Southern Kentucky and he filled his appointment on Sunday.

A Williams, after being confined to his room for three months, the effects of a fall from a wagon, was around town on crutches last week.

A shooting match at clay pigeons is held south of town every Saturday afternoon. Like the hounds in a fox chase "first one and then the other beats."

The bank of Joplin, in which our county man, Bassett Jenkins, is Cashier, has over $500,000 in deposits. They made out their statement last week, the next day a mining firm deposited $75,000 with them. There are two other banks in Joplin which have about the same.

A stock company consisting of about fifty shareholders has purchased the stock of dry goods and groceries of J. A. Walton, and are in the process of the same this week, preparatory to taking charge. J. R. Walton and Ed. Thompson, the present managers, will retain their places.

Dr. H. H. Savage, before leaving for his home at Joplin, Mo., purchased a valuable combined horse of S. D. Rigdon and two from M. Daniton. They reached their destination in four days, in good condition. He left for home last week and with good luck he is doubtless by this time delighting some of the young ladies of that mining region with rides behind his Kentucky fancy teams, and exciting the jealousy of the lover of fine turnout. Few people have any conception of the amount of business done and money handled in that mining section. There is the greatest boom this spring they have ever known, zinc ore selling as high as $31.50 per ton. Selling of mining interest at fifty to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars is almost a daily occurrence. Have but two banks in Galena, Kan., a place not near so large as Maysville; between them they have over $500,000 in deposits.

POLLITT & PARKER, of this city, will assist the Brooksville band in an entertainment at that point next Monday night.

More regulars to be sent.

Washington, April 20.—Fourteen thousand regulars are to be sent to reinforce General Otis at Manilla, as soon as the necessary marine transportation can be provided. The first regiment to be ordered will probably be the Seventh artillery, of which the two light batteries, C and M, have been ordered home from Porto Rico for the purpose. They will be sent at once to San Francisco to await an available transpacific steamer.

Kansas City, April 20.—The Missouri river is still rising, but the changes are less marked than 24 hours ago.

Resulted In Death.

Missouri City, Mo., April 20.—Miss Delta Clevenger, who was shot by her cousin, Ernest Clevenger, on the night of Dec. 8 last, is dead of her wounds. Ernest Clevenger is in jail at Liberty, having been returned there Monday from Vibbard, Mo., where he was recaptured after having escaped a week before. There is talk of lynching.

It treats of the greatest and gravest problems of human life in simple English, from a common sense point of view. It is essentially a family book, and its advice in a moment of sudden illness or accident may be the means of saving a valuable life. This great work is sent absolutely free on receipt of stamp to defray the cost of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the book in paper binding, or thirty-one stamps for cloth covers.
